SAVE THE DATE

To make Rural ITS work it takes technical excellence, creativity, and it helps to learn from the experiences of others.

For over 20 years, the Forum has advanced the state of the practice in Rural ITS by providing a venue for frank, detailed discussions and demonstrations about Rural ITS projects down to the nuts and bolts of how things work or don't work. This premier event is for those involved with ITS technology at a field level, whether design and engineering, communications system development, systems integration, or field maintenance.

Join us at the Annual Western States Rural Transportation Technology Implementers Forum to share your experiences and learn from others.
